What is “intended use”?

Intended use implies that any given product will be used expressly for the purpose for which it was designed and built. Moreover, certain actions will also void the warranty if not respected. Such actions would include but are not limited to :

1. Using electrical products without connecting them to a GFCI protected circuit.
2. Using extension cords to connect products to the electrical source.
3. Opening up the product assembly in an attempt to modify or repair it.

What does the 3-Year Limited Warranty NOT cover?

The 3-Year Limited Warranty does not cover products that have been damaged due to customer negligence, abuse, or misuse.

The 3-Year Limited Warranty does not cover propellers, power cords, filters or unlisted items or accessories that either warrant periodic maintenance or that are more commonly subject to damage or incidents outside of our control (e.g. nicked power cords, propeller damage, etc.)

How to make a warranty claim?

We will require a proof of purchase, serial number (if applicable) along with photos and/or video of the defective product and a description of the problem. If your request is approved, we will give you an RMA (Return Merchandise Authorization) number and you may then return the item to us. PLEASE NOTE: Any items returned to us without an assigned RMA number will not be accepted. The customer is responsible for any shipping costs associated with getting units back to us. Please make sure to pack items adequately for shipment. It is strongly encouraged that all items being returned to Admiral be fully insured as we cannot be responsible for items damaged in shipping. Also, it is not necessary to return auxiliary components such as beach stakes, Mega filters, etc. when returning items for repair.

Upon receipt, we will inspect the item and if factory inspection establishes that the part is defective, we will proceed to repair or replace the defective product and cover the cost of return shipping to the customer.
